Subject: Re: [Coordinators] ABC weighs in on workplace bullying

Good Morning Coordinators

I am writing you as a result of a telephone conversation I had with Gary on last evening on his way out the door for an anniversary celebration with Ruth. For the past three weeks Gary and I have been communicating with the sister of Kevin Morrissey the managing editor of the Virginia Quarterly Review who on the morning of July 31, 2010 committed suicide as a result of workplace bullying. Maria the sister with the support of other siblings (all reside in Texas) has launched an all out campaign to bring awareness to workplace bullying and as a result have caught the attention of the Today's Show and Good Morning America where she will be appearing beginning next week (me or Gary will post the exact times and dates) but I believe one show airs on Monday. Also, I have her scheduled to do a blog/talk radio show that will follow a group discussion by six targets of workplace bullying in Texas that will be taped on 9-2-10 and aired shortly thereafter. During these interviews she will reference the Healthy Workplace Bill and reference the fact THERE NEED TO BE A LAW! And refer to a different outcome had there been laws to provide relief for her brother.

Gary just wanted the group to be aware of the upcoming media events as always he will capture the information and post it to the coordinators page.

Thanks
